

Teach your kids hands on skills

1 MIN · YOUTUBE · HTTPS://WWW.YOUTUBE.COM/WATCH?V=JYSDHP74FX4
<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=JYsDhp74Fx4>

SUMMARY

The speaker reflects on their experience with the Boy Scouts and the importance of youth organizations in shaping character and community. They emphasize the value of hands-on skills and camaraderie learned through these programs, advocating for their continued relevance in society.

- The speaker wrote 50,000 letters to Eagle Scouts, highlighting their commitment to the organization.*
- They recall positive experiences in the Boy Scouts, including learning valuable skills like shooting and camping.*
- The importance of youth organizations like the Boy Scouts, Future Farmers of America, and Skills USA is stressed.*
- The speaker believes these groups are essential for fostering community and societal cohesion.*
- They mention the role of adult organizations like Rotarians and Lions Club in maintaining social fabric.*

Dirty Jobs blew up and I wound I wrote 50,000 letters to Eagle Scouts in the country before I stopped. I couldn't do anymore, but I I literally sent out 50,000 letters. Wow, that's awesome. Because uh it did it did matter to me. We had a boxing ring in the troop room where young boys could settle their differences uh with of course an adjudicated ref and right. We had a I learned to shoot in the Boy Scouts.

bows, arrows, and and and guns, whitewater rapids, camping for a week at a time with hunting. Like, I don't know what's happening in in the movement today, but I I do believe the country still needs the Boy Scouts. We need Future Farmers of America. We need Skills USA. We need the 4 and and and later in life, we need the Rotarians and the JC's and the Kuanas and the Lions Club and all that. That's the grout that holds polite society together.