Uh, it's great. So, when you're in the car or you're on the road with your kids or just traveling from one place to the other, make sure that you listen and tune in with your kids. Uh, because it's going to be a lot of information and you don't need to go back really to YouTube about discussing a lot of stuff with your kids. Uh so you know you can just if you're spending those five minutes with your kids then let this be that one bonding uh session between you and your kids.
