SUMMARY

Gio Connect is a card game designed for ages 8 and up, suitable for 2 to 9 players. Players create two hands of cards representing countries, capitals, languages, and currencies, aiming to complete their hands first to win.

- Game involves two decks of cards with geographical themes.
- Each player receives nine cards and must create two hands of four cards each.
- Hands consist of a country, its capital, language, and currency.
- Players can choose to keep or discard cards during their turn.
- The first player to complete both hands wins.
- Priced at 300 rupees, it's recommended as a great travel game.
- Available for purchase on Curiously Graphics' website or Facebook page.

hi you're watching kids da Prez calm with me man see in the game we're going to review today is gio connect by curiously graphics very very interesting game plays for age 8 plus but i would recommend you could even play younger plays up to two to nine players you get two decks of cards like this what you need to distribute what you need to do is distribute nine cards for each player and then watch the deck like this right in the middle with one card facing us each player needs to make two hands of for each so and what each hand would contain will be the country that is Germany the capital that is Berlin language German and currency euro in case you have save out to each card then when your turn comes you pull a card you can Egypt either choose to keep the card or discard the car the player who makes obviously the two hands first comprising of all four of these is is the winner price of rupees 300 I thought this game was really interesting makes for great travel time so if you would like to shop for it all you need to do is just log onto curiously graphics com or log on to their Facebook page or the contact details will be mentioned down below so if you would like to play this I think it's a great travel game to carry with you thank you for watching kids stock price calm happy shopping
